CANCELLATION OF ALLIED REPARATION DEMANDS POSSIBLE

AS SOON AS FOREIGN POLICY OF UNITED STATES IS CLEARLY OUTLINED

CUSTOM COLLECTORS ALONG THE LINE IN GERMANY INSUFFICIENT TO PAY EXPENSES

(United Press)

London, March 11—Cancellation of the allied reparation penalty can be expected as soon as the foreign policy of the United States is outlined distinctly, it was reported authoritatively.

It was believed that Germany may appeal to America to support her in appealing to the league of nations against occupation.

Great Britain and Italy consented to inflict the German penalty only to cure France of her continual demand for punishment of Germany, it was said authoritatively today. Lloyd George had Count Fozor was said to have decided that if France could be convinced of the ineffectiveness of the reprisal the next series of conferences would have a better chance of ending the long fight.

Custom collectors along the new line of Germany were said to be insufficient in even meeting the cost of occupation. France, it was asserted, will be convinced the wrong program will be followed and will be willing to remove the penalty as soon as Germany has an opportunity to open negotiations.

CABINET LUNCHEONS WITH PRESIDENT

(By United Press)

Washington, March 11—After a two hour session with his cabinet in executive offices today, President Harding took the members to the White House for luncheon and discussion of government problems was continued.

The labor situation, the packing industry and the appointment of new shipping boards were among the questions uppermost at the cabinet meeting.

It was intimated that appointment of shipping board members might be sent to the senate tomorrow.

The situation in Panama was also discussed but so far there has been no announcement regarding the attitude of President Harding and his advisors. The appointment of an alien property custodian was considered.

PREPARING THE SEED BED.

Wheat Must Have a Shallow, Loose Seed Bed and a Firmly Packed Root Bed.

Spring wheat should be sown as soon in the spring as the seed bed can be properly prepared. Germination takes place in the ground when the temperature is about 42 to 50 degrees.

Generally the quantity of seed per acre should be six to eight pecks. Your own experience will tell you how much. Drilling is better than broadcasting. The seed bed should be loose on top and the root bed firm underneath. The use of the corrugated roller is recommended.

Marquis is an early variety, ripening from 98 to 135 days after sowing, the average being about 115 days. This makes it three to ten days earlier than most of the other five varieties, but it should be put into the ground just as soon as the seed bed may be prepared.

The seed usually should be sown about two or three inches deep. The important thing is to get it into soil sufficiently moist to insure germination. In heavy wet soil, one to two inches will be deep enough.

Old or stubble land should be plowed in the fall or early as possible in the spring. Sandy soils, with a tendency to drift, should be plowed early in the spring. When land is fall plowed, it should be left rough to catch and hold the snow and to prevent soil blowing. Plow six to eight inches deep, covering all weeds and trash.

Banish Gossip.

The "I have heard," "I have been told," "It has been said to me," "I have been told as a fact" contingent are the main factors of the machinery which keeps the pessimistic report factory in full operation. Let gossip be forced to produce facts, figures and authorities for its assertions, and vague, mischievous assertions will be banished.

STANDPATS AND PROGRESSIVES IN ARGUMENT

COST OF BREAD, MEAT, COAL HINGES ON RESULT OF THE STRUGGLE

MAY BE INFLUENCED BY WHICH WING OF REPUBLICANS IS SUCCESSFUL

L. C. MARTIN.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 11—The cost of bread, meat and coal and other necessities of life to each American consumer may be directly influenced by the outcome of the struggle between the so-called "stand pat" and the progressive wings of the republican party in full swing today in the senate.

There is a clash of ideas and principles, the issues of which are:

Whether corporations dealing in necessities of life shall be classed as public service corporations and as such be subjected to such federal regulation.

Whether the idea of government champion for the progressives or those of the "stand patters" shall be established as the policy of the new congress.

If the wing headed by Lodge, Smoot and Penrose win there will be no packer control win there will be no coal business as provided in the Calder bill, no curbing of gambling as proposed by Senator Capper of Kansas, no replacing of statutes against profiteering, the progressives declare.

Stand pat leaders take as their text President Harding's campaign declaration for "real government and business."

The progressives headed by Borah, Johnson and Kenyon announced their intention of stirring up public sentiment against "stand pat ideas" through the pressing means of making progressives harmless and being invoked by party leaders to select a "suitable" agricultural committee to handle such measures as the packer bill and other legislation sponsored by progressives. Senator Page, of Vermont, is being urged to give up the chairmanship of the naval affairs committee to Senator Poindexter of Washington, and take the agricultural committee chairmanship. If he does not Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who favors the packer bill and other regulatory legislation, is entitled to the place.

(United Press)

CLARA SMITH HAMON ON TRIAL FOR MURDER, RE-ACTS SCENE

TWELVE SILENT MEN OF JURY ACCOMPANIED HER TO THE RANDOL HOTEL

JURORS SEE THE CONNECTING ROOMS, LAYOUT OF FURNITURE, ETC.

CARL V. LITTLE.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

Ardmore, Okla., March 11—Court opened today in Jake L. Hamon's dingy "murder suite" in the second class Randol hotel.

Clara came back to the scene where a bullet ended the career of the powerful Hamon.

This time she was in the custody of Sheriff "Buck" Garrett. He had firearms in either pocket.

Twelve silent men accompanied her. They were the jurors who are to weigh evidence in the trial of Hamon's murder.

Counsel for the defense and the prosecution were there also.

Clara was to re-act the incident of Hamon's life that was ended by a bullet. She was taken back to the connecting rooms, 28 and 29, on agreement of attorneys for both sides. They wanted the jurors to see the rooms; to get the layout of the furniture; to hear Clara's version of Hamon's death.

The jury was chosen late yesterday just before the end of the first day of the trial.

Murder fans will be rewarded for their patience today. Prince Freeling, famous all over the southwest for his lecture "The Trial of Christ" will spring the opening statement of the prosecution.

Freeling, attorney general of Oklahoma, and special prosecutor of Clara Hamon, is to speak in substance as follows:

"The state wants law upheld whether a man or woman is involved. There is no malice in the prosecution. It is up to the jury to weigh evidence presented them to render a verdict."

"The state will attempt to show that the shooting of Jake Hamon was the result of a long series of incidents; that it was not just a sudden passion that caused Clara Hamon to shoot."

Evidence will be introduced to show the automatic was set off by the pressure of a finger and not by a blow of a swirling chair.

Frank Chetek, the administrator of the Hamon estate, who has an income of $1,000 a day, is slated to testify first for the prosecution. He will probably testify as to what Hamon told him the night he was shot. Chetek is also expected to explain why he issued a statement after Hamon was in the hospital that Hamon had wounded himself.

Dr. Walter Hardy will bare Jake Hamon's last words.

Other prosecution witnesses who will testify are:

E. W. Sallis, chauffeur who drove Clara Hamon in her flight to Mexico after Hamon was shot.

State Senator John H. Carlock, who met Hamon limping to the hospital with a bullet in his body.

W. S. Myers, Oklahoma hardware man, who will testify that Clara Hamon bought the gun that killed Hamon, from him, a few days before the shooting.

"Keep your hands on your pocket-books," was "Buck" Garrett's advice to the jury members today. The pockets of three jurors were picked yesterday while they were waiting to be called to the jury box.

"Some of these slick 'dips' from the east must be trying to disturb our peaceful life," roared "Buck."

Branded as Rich Man's Chattel

Clara Smith Hamon heard herself branded as a rich man's chattel and cold-blooded murderess and did not wince.

The pretty defendant went under fire when Attorney General Freeling told the jury what the state expected to prove.

"Fortune smiled on Jake Hamon," Freeling said. "Everything he touched turned to gold. He became rich and powerful. He rose to a high position as political leader."

The prosecution said he would prove that the defendant was jealous of Hamon. Clara shot Hamon while he lay across the bed.

The motive, he said, was that Hamon had decided to return to his family, to join the church and to become a good citizen because he had reached political power.

J. B. Miller, capitalist, took the stand as the first witness.

M. Gorman, Ardmore banker, took the stand next. He knew Jake Hamon when he came to Ardmore in 1913 from Lawton, Okla.

Dr. E. T. Harlow, optician, testified he saw a pistol when Clara opened her hand bag in his store Sept. 15, 1920.

COLLUSIVE DIVORCE FLAYED BY JUDGE

TRIAL HALTED WHEN WOMAN ADMITS HUSBAND ASKED HER TO BEGIN SUIT

Minneapolis, March 11—Bartering of the marriage relation by collusive divorce is one of the iniquities of the age, Judge Frank M. Nye told Mrs. Emma C. Kalton, 57 years old, and Martin A. Kalton, 42, parties to a contested divorce suit in his court, when he halted the trial upon admissions by Mrs. Kalton that her husband had begged her to seek a divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalton were married in 1899 and have four children. In June, 1920 Mrs. Kalton brought suit against her husband, charging cruelty. In October Kalton was ordered to pay his wife $30 a month alimony pending the action. In September he filed a countersuit to her action, also charging cruelty.

The suit came to trial late yesterday on Mrs. Kalton's bill. Mrs. Kalton sought the greater part of her husband's property. It was this demand, according to attorneys, that caused Kalton to contest the suit.

Mrs. Kalton was the first witness. She protested upon cross examination by her husband's attorney that she always had performed her duties as a wife.

"I would even have stayed by him to the end," said Mrs. Kalton, "for I never believed in divorce."

"Then why did you bring this action?" asked her husband's attorney. "He begged me for it day and night," said Mrs. Kalton.

"So there was an agreement between you," said the attorney, "that you should bring this action?"

"Yes," said Mrs. Kalton.

Judge Nye interrupted the proceedings.

"If this action is brought by agreement," said Judge Nye, "we will not waste any more time on it. This bartering of the marriage relations is one of the iniquities and curses of the age, and when such collusion comes to the notice of the court it will have to be recognized, no matter how badly the parties want a divorce."

Judge Nye said that he would dismiss Mrs. Kalton's action, but that he would hear the husband's cross bill.

GOVERNOR AIMS TO STOP CRIME WAVE SWEEPING STATE

GOV. PREUS IN FIRST MESSAGE BEFORE JOINT SESSION OF HOUSES

APPEALS FOR GREATER POWER AS FIRST LAW ENFORCER OF THE STATE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 11—Governor Preus today appealed to the legislature to enact laws to terminate the crime wave sweeping over Minnesota.

It was his first message of the session delivered before a joint session of both houses this afternoon.

He appealed for greater power as the first law enforcer of the state, indicating that he favors legislation now pending which would establish a state department of public safety.

Other legislation recommended as a means of stamping out the crime wave include:

Laws to promote greater efficiency in administration of the criminal code.

Measures to eliminate professional bondsmen.

Making the carrying of concealed weapons a felony.

The governor declared the present crime wave is far greater than that which followed any previous war.

GERMAN WORKERS VOICE OBJECTIONS

(By United Press)

Berlin, March 11—Overthrow of the German government followed by establishment of a proletarian government with Russia was preached at a workers' gathering in the Lust Garden late yesterday.

The demonstration was staged to condemn the "capitalistic demands" of the allies at London.

There was a threat of bloodshed following the meeting by the great crowd coming from the Lust Garden and swarming down Unter den Linden.

There was no organized procession but police threatened to shoot if the crowd didn't disperse. They willingly obeyed.

Red flags were carried by hundreds and then "Internationale" was roared by ten thousand throats before the speaker took the stand to declare "that the capitalists through London proceedings desire to sentence us to hunger and slavery."

TONNAGE TAX AS 'OCCUPATION TAX' IN FOR HARD SLEDDING

PASSED IN THE HOUSE, BUT POOR RECEPTION ANTICIPATED IN THE SENATE

EACH HOUSE IN A MOOD OF CRITICISM OF THE WORK OF THE OTHER

(United Press)

St. Paul, March 11—The senate today surveyed the work of the house on the tonnage tax problem and the house members gave the senate street car control legislation the "once over."

Each house apparently was in a mood of criticism to the work of the other.

Each legislator agreed that the tonnage tax legislation with its new name "occupation tax," is going to lead a hard life in the house.

The house passed the six per cent ore occupation tax bill last night after nine hours debate. The vote was 99 to 25.

The senate adopted the bill providing for state railroad and warehouse commission control of the street car rates in the city by a vote of 40 to 23.

Friends of both measures were confident they will win.

TAXPAYERS MAY GET A REFUND

(By United Press)

Washington, March 11—Two or three hundred million dollars will be returned to tax payers as a result of concessions made by the federal government in important tax suits argued before the supreme court today.

The tax in the dispute arose under the section of the 1916 income tax law which placed the levy on profits derived from capital assets, stocks, bonds and other securities and provided that this tax should be based on gain in value between March 1, 1913 and date of the sale.

CHIROPRACTIC

REMOVES THE CAUSE OF DISEASE

Since locating we have had a multitude of sick and afflicted people, some of whom have been given up by all consultation and spinal analysis as absolutely hopeless cases. As a drowning man grasping at a straw, they came to us and found perfect and permanent relief. It would be useless to review the record we have made in eliminating the ills of humanity. Many and various afflicted persons have work, and in almost every case that we accepted most happy results were secured. It is proving strange, too, that some of these cases had been under other forms of treatment for their health for many years.

If you are tired of being sick; if you are tired of a bitter draught; if you are tired of operation and of being left in doubt as to your actual condition, come to us and rid yourself of the affliction which has made your life a hideous nightmare and has robbed you of the pleasure to which all mortals are entitled.

Remember, there are none so blind as those who will not see. We are here to serve and help you if we can. All consultations and spinal analysis yours for the asking.

Making Joss Sticks.

The composition of the candles called joss sticks, which are used in all the religious ceremonies of Buddhism, has long remained a mystery. The preparation of the sticks being entrusted to certain persons chosen from a limited class. Not long ago, however, there was learned the manner of making joss sticks in Indo-China. A stem of bamboo is rolled into a preparation containing 14 different odoriferous drugs, two of which are significant, as showing a knowledge of chemical and physical properties. These are acetic, which serves to protect the sticks against the attacks of rats and mice, and camphor, which causes them to burn steadily without being periodically extinguished.

Why Higher Telephone Rates Are Necessary in Minnesota

The money obtained from the sale of our service must be sufficient to pay all expenses and leave a fair return on the money invested, if we are to meet the reasonable requirements of the public for telephone service.

Enough money can be obtained only by charging sufficient rates for the service furnished.

If present rates are continued in Minnesota, this Company will sustain a loss of more than a million dollars this year in the state. Our stockholders would have to stand this loss and, in addition, nothing would be earned to pay dividends on the money invested.

This Company requires an average of three million dollars each year in the state to provide additional telephone facilities for the public. Investors will not supply the necessary new money each year unless the business is earning a fair return.

FICTION AND FILMS

Recently William Allen White, replying to a woman's criticism of a movie drama attributed to him, replied frankly: "I quite agree with you. It is the worst picture I ever saw. I am as much ashamed of it as you can be."

But this was not modesty. He proceeded to explain: "They changed the plot and made it a nasty sex thing."

There may have been no connection, but it is interesting to find that very soon after this incident the Authors' League of America, comprising nearly every author of distinction in the country, has announced its intention of boycotting a certain magazine publisher if he did not change his policy of insisting on an option to the movie rights when he bought a story. The league makes its protest in the name of literary art, and thereby starts an interesting discussion as to the relation of movies to literature.

"If this policy should spread to all the magazines," says the league, "the profit that is possible from speculating on motion picture rights would be so inviting that editors, if they were good business men, would refuse to buy stories that had no motion picture value. Fiction, as such, would vanish from the magazines. It would become nothing more than an advertising medium for future motion pictures. Great authors who possess nothing of what is known as motion picture value would find themselves without publishers."

"Writing and motion pictures," adds Louis Joseph Vance, "are two different arts. To combine them one must necessarily be subordinated to the other. If the sale of fiction is contingent upon its moving picture possibilities, the art of fiction will suffer and perhaps be destroyed. The motion picture is an art. But it is a different thing from the fiction story. By its very nature there is no literary form or style embodied in the picture. So if a story is written with its moving picture possibilities in mind, letters must suffer."

The complaint seems legitimate. There is obvious danger that fiction will be greatly modified by the influence of films, and that much of it will be perverted in the process. But the danger can hardly be so great as the authors think. There was a time, not long ago, when dramatists were afraid that the "legitimate" drama was doomed—that the movies would sweep it all away, or else pervert it beyond recognition. And look at the speaking drama now! Never was it more prosperous.

The movies are great, and potent as evil as for good, but they are not going to change the world.

AMUSEMENTS

Tom Mix at the Lyceum

The presentation of a new Tom Mix picture is always an important theatrical event. Tom Mix by this time has become so popular a favorite that each picture he makes arouses a great deal of interest in advance. His latest film, "Prairie Trails," a William Fox production, announced as the attraction at the Lyceum theatre Saturday, is from the popular novel by James B. Hendryx, author of "The Texan," which also was filmed recently with Mix as the star.

"Nothing But The Truth"

"Nothing But the Truth," the riotous farce starring that inimitable comedian Taylor Holmes, will be the feature attraction at the Lyceum theatre tonight. This is a picturization of Frederic S. Isham's diverting novel that was made into a stage play for William Celler by James Montgomery, and it is announced as a sure cure for the blues. The management assures its patrons of entertainment of the most hilarious kind in this screen version of a famous farce, for it is a vehicle ideally suited to the fun-making talents of Taylor Holmes.

COLLEGE AND HAYDON COMPANY VISITED

Second of the "See Brainerd First" Tours' Royally Entertained Wednesday Afternoon

R. D. STITZEL EXPLAINS SCHOOL

W. E. Haydon, President of Haydon Company, is Host of His Manufacturing Place

Those who missed the "See Brainerd First" tours of Wednesday, did miss a real treat. Members of the Chamber of Commerce who went on this pilgrimage were royally entertained both at the Brainerd Commercial College and at the Haydon Ice Cream Co.'s plant.

The Commercial College came first on the program. R. D. Stitzel, principal of the college met the visitors at the door, escorted them through the suite occupied by this school, explaining in detail each department and each course of study.

The college, which uses as its slogan "A True Friend of the Young Folks", occupies new quarters on the second floor of the City Hall building. The five rooms make an ideal arrangement, for the work, allowing each course to be handled by departments.

A large assembly room comes first, where all students are seated and the bookkeeping subjects are handled. In this department one of the young lady students demonstrated the big $1,000 bookkeeping machine for the visitors.

Next came the shorthand and typewriting departments. Gregg shorthand is taught exclusively. It is a system universally used and the easiest to learn. A number of students were at work in the typewriting room, using the touch method of typing, in which a high rate of speed can be acquired with very little effort. A speed demonstration is being planned for this spring, with one of the world's champion typists as the main feature, who writes at the rate of 143 words per minute for a solid hour.

The work done by the students is very thorough. Individual instruction in bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting enables each one to progress just as rapidly as his ability permits. No one is held back because the rest of the class cannot go as fast as he is able. The advanced work of each student includes practice in the duties of a model office, where business methods and office procedure are taught, together with different legal papers and office appliances.

The college teaches three courses, stenography, bookkeeping and the complete course, comprising both the first two mentioned. This summer, as in the past, there will be a special summer school for high school graduates, a feature that has always been popular in past seasons, and which will be conducted on a larger scale, than ever this summer.

Mr. Stitzel spared no pains in explaining all phases of the college work, and the visitors were most favorably impressed with the showing this school is making, and the good results accomplished there. No difficulty has been experienced in placing graduates in good positions, and conditions point to a bigger demand for trained help this spring and summer.

At W. E. Haydon Company
From the Commercial college the Chamber of Commerce party made a tour around the corner to the W. E. Haydon company, corner Fifth and Front streets and entered the section where the ice cream is made. President W. E. Haydon was there to receive the visitors. All employees wore white duck coats and brown coveralls. The plant was spick and span in appearance and it fairly shone.

"The best way to demonstrate the ice cream business", said President Haydon, "is to make some right now and let you sample it".

The crowd followed with intense interest the mixing and various changes occurring to the ice cream from fluid to freezing and then were rewarded by samples in cones. The refrigerating system was inspected and all were satisfied it was cool enough when they glanced at the thermometer within and saw 25 below zero recorded.

Many had no idea of the amount of high class machinery and the cost of investment at the plant and eagerly listened to words of explanation of the various modern machines installed. The plant turns out an ice cream, bulk and bricks, which compares favorably with the best of the largest cities. In fact the Haydon company now serves a territory north to International Falls, west to Wadena, east to Carlton and south to Little Falls. A sales force of experienced men is daily increasing business. In the basement the refrigerating

LAND VALUES HOLD UP

According to Weekly Business Review of Merchant National Bank of St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn., March 11—Despite tight money, industrial depression and sharp reduction in prices of products raised on farms, values of Minnesota's agricultural lands have held up unusually well this winter—especially when compared with prices for land in adjoining states. Data obtained during the past week from bankers in every section of the state for the business review of the Merchants National Bank of St. Paul, corroborated this information.

The average decrease in prices for farm lands apparently has ranged from 10 to 20 per cent. In some counties practically no decrease was reported. In a few—where land booms had been in progress when money conditions became tight—the drop in prices ranged as high as 30 per cent. Not one pessimistic report was received from a banker. Every person heard from declared that inquiries regarding land have been received recently from persons in other states.

Irregular reports were received regarding the percentage of land settlements made on March 1. In some districts very few settlements were made. In other districts, very few defaults were reported. Judging from comments of bankers, a considerable majority of defaults were a result of speculation. Apparently the percentage of defaults by persons who bought land for farm and home purposes will not be above normal.

SERVICE MENS' FLORAL FUND

The Service Mens' Floral Fund, as collected at the Dispatch office, received this letter from H. G. Roll, father of one of the boys to be brought home from France for his last resting place in America.

"Enclosed please find $1 check for the flower fund of returned dead soldiers. I am going to get my son, Frederick C. Roll, 352 Ambulance Co., 313 Sanitary Train returned to Brainerd and buried by the side of his mother and sister". The Roll family resided in Brainerd for years until recently, when they moved to Brinsmeade, N. D.

Machinery was carefully inspected. Coming to the main floor again, Mr. Haydon served cocoa cola. From there the party went to the stock room and saw all the candy and were given samples. A trip to the basement followed with cigars served there.

By that time the crowd was willing to go wherever Mr. Haydon led. He explained that the activities of the corporation were soon to be enlarged and that candy making employing quite a number of Brainerd people would soon be started, quarters having been secured in a section of the Gardner block.

As the "See Brainerd First" tourists departed each expressed his thanks to Mr. Haydon for the courtesies shown.

"Doubtless you will be interested as secretary of Brainerd lodge of Elks in news of the death of a member of your lodge, Harry M. Gann, formerly editor of the 'Lake Wales Highlander'. He died of a cancer at my former home in Tampa, Dec. 3, 1920 and funeral services were held at the mortuary chapel of H. L. Reed, a brother Elks, in Tampa, Dec. 5, the date of your Lodge of Sorrow, but for this fact there, would have been an attendance of Tampa Elks at his funeral.

"I have a copy of your program for the Lodge of Sorrow and also of a paper telling of some of your doings that indicated you might not know of his end, so am taking the liberty to inform you. He was owner of the 'Lake Wales Highlander', but sold to me shortly before his death. We had been friends for some time.

"The remains were sent to his old home at Warren, Ill., for burial. His next of kin are his sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Buser, Third Ave., Cedar Rapids, Iowa and his heirs, his grandchildren, whose mother's name is Mrs. F. W. Schirber, Herreir, North Dakota."

JOHN SODERLUND HONORED

Members of Swedish Bethany Church Congratulate Him on Attaining 65th Birthday

After the regular Thursday evening Bible study period the members of the Swedish Bethany church gathered in the church for the purpose of honoring John Soderlund a faithful member of the church who had attained his sixty-fifth birthday. There were about 50 persons present to offer their congratulations to their fellow worker in the church.

A program was enjoyed in which well rendered duets and quartettes featured.

Rev. P. G. Fallquist gave a talk which was expressive of the sentiments of those assembled and presented to Mr. Soderlund a set of books, a gift of the people of the church.

A luncheon was enjoyed consisting of all kinds of good things. Mr. Soderlund is the oldest member of the church and has been trustee, deacon etc. He is at this time vice-chairman of the church board. To the remarks of the pastor congratulating him on his service and the birthday occasion and wishing him more years of life and service, Mr. Soderlund replied in an interesting speech.

The festive board was made yet more attractive by the birthday cake which was decorated by 66 candles.

Mixup Was Too Much for Him.
Chester could not understand why Lloyd was called his half-brother. It was explained to him—his father had married twice. He couldn't seem to grasp the idea, however. Lloyd soon married and was later divorced, all of which mystified Chester greatly. But when Lloyd married again his bewilderment was complete. "Dad," he implored, "what relationship is Lloyd to us now?"

Chiropractic for Heart Trouble

The question is often asked: Can Chiropractic do anything for the leakage of the heart? Yes! Leakage of the heart is the diagnosis given to laymen when there is regurgitation of blood due to valvular incompetency. There are a great many different pathological conditions capable of producing mitral incompetency. Regardless of which of these derangements exists, the cause is a subluxation at heart place, usually the second Dorsal Vertebrae. See your Chiropractor no matter what kind of heart trouble you have.

NEVER IN HISTORY OF PARTY HAS NATIONAL CAPITAL HELD
SO MANY REPUBLICANS.

WHO WILL SUCCEED HAYS?

Question of Next Chairman of National Republican Committee is Causing Much Speculation—Hays to Step Down in Near Future.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Old politicians say that never before in the history of the party has Republicanism been so numerously represented in the city of Washington as is the case in this month of March weather in the year of grace 1921. The Republican party holds possession today of the White House and the Capitol, and to a great extent of all the hotels in this town. Soon, the promise of the politicians is, that it will have possession of every strategic place in all the departments of government.

This little description of the sudden transfer of this town into the condition of a Republican stronghold could have been written eight years ago of its transformation into a Democratic stronghold. The whirligig of politics brings its changes like the whirligig of time.

The Republican national committee has been here in the full force of its membership. Will H. Hays, the chairman, presided at its meetings, and if other meetings are held within the next three or four months it is likely that he will continue to preside, unless, being postmaster general, he shall feel that the proprieties of office demand that he shall give over the chair of the chairmanship to the committee's vice chairman.

It is pretty well understood here in Washington that Will H. Hays somewhere about June 1, and possibly earlier, will resign from the office of chairman of the national committee, and will ask the members to choose some one in his place, the some one in the case probably being a man designated by the present great chairman of the party, Warren G. Harding. It is the custom to allow the President of the United States to suggest the name of the new chairman of the committee in case a change is made during his presidential term.

The Next Chairman.

There is a good deal of gossip in Washington concerning the new Republican chairmanship. Three or four names are mentioned as possibilities. John T. Adams of Iowa is the present vice chairman of the committee and so far as position is concerned stands in line of promotion, but it is known that there is opposition in the committee to the selection of Mr. Adams. United States Senator Harry S. New of Indiana has been suggested and it has been said that he is President Harding's choice for the place, but it is understood that Mr. New does not wish to take the place because in two years he will be a candidate for re-election to the senate.

Alvin T. Hart, Republican national committeeman from Kentucky, also is mentioned as a more than possible selection for chairmanship.

It was Mr. Hart who managed the Hughes campaign in the West with headquarters in Chicago in 1916. There always has been a feeling, expressed freely, that Mr. Hart was handicapped in his Western endeavors in 1916 by interference from the East, and there are scores of Republicans today who say that if he had been given a free hand the result in the West probably would have been different. In that year of Republican defeat, Mr. Hart is not anxious for the chairmanship. He has so told his fellows.

Another possibility for the chairmanship is Elmer Dover, an old-time newspaper man. He was born in Ohio and lived there all through his early life. He was secretary to Marcus A. Hanna from 1897 to 1904, and was the secretary of the Republican national committee from 1904 to 1908.

May Choose Dover.

During the last campaign Mr. Dover was in the West where he has business interests. He worked for the Harding-Coolidge cause from the convention day to election day, and inasmuch as he was once the secretary of the national committee and always has been deeply interested in Republican party politics, and because he is not connected with any factions in the present committee, it is said that he may be the choice, provided it is decided to go outside of the committee membership for a chairman.

Lady Grateful For Help Received

One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson Pharmacy.

It is said that Will H. Hays desires temporarily to retain his position as committee chairman in order that under his direction the last remaining indebtedness of the committee may be cleared up.

The Republican national committeemen, or most of them, left Washington immediately after the inauguration, but some scores of men remained behind them holding more or less precious letters of recommendation for appointments, or at any rate more or less precious promises of help in obtaining preferment. It is, therefore, the office seekers who are occupying a large share of the room space in the hotels of this city today.

It is this way every four or eight years.

Mussel Mud From Sea of Value.

Along the shores of Prince Edward island there is to be found extensive deposits of mussel mud, so called locally, being organic remains of countless generations of oysters, mussels, clams and other shell fish. The shells, usually more or less intact, are found embedded in dense deposits of a mud-like substance, and this combination is a fertilizer of high value and potency. It supplies lime and organic matter, besides small quantities of phosphates and alkalis. An ordinary dressing of it has a very marked beneficial effect on the poor and most exhausted soils. The shells decay slowly year by year, throwing off deposits around Prince Edward island varying from five feet to twenty-five feet in depth. They are taken up by dredging machines, worked from rafts in summer or from the ice in winter.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

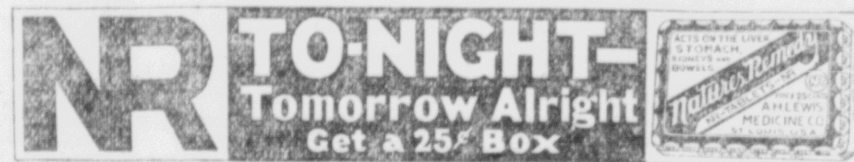

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Good Milling Wheat

THERE is great danger that we may lose our prestige for fine wheat. Millions of dollars normally come to the Northwest when we have good wheat; bakers will not use flours made from inferior wheat, and we should not force them to buy their flours ground from Kansas or Canadian wheat. Our wheat is the best in the world.

Why Marquis Wheat is Recommended

Marquis wheat is the favorite wheat because it contains plenty of gluten of the best quality for bread making, and outyields all other varieties.

It matures from five to ten days earlier than other wheats, avoiding that much danger from hot winds and drouth. When sown early, it matures early, which is important in a rust year, and it is not more susceptible to rust than any other good milling wheat.

Marquis does not shed out and waste so badly as Blue Stem, Fife and Velvet Chaff during harvest, even when over-ripe.

Marquis is a beardless wheat and easier handled than wheat with long awns. Marquis straw is shorter and stiffer, and therefore suffers less from lodging.

More fall plowing has been done this season than ever before, and we ought to be able to get our wheat in early.

The rust problem is a serious one, but black rust cannot directly infect wheat until it has passed the cluster cup stage on the common barberry bush. The red spores spread through weeds and grasses, and are blown by the wind for miles off of the barberry until they reach wheat, then they turn into the black stage. Therefore dig up the barberries.

Be Sure to Plan Rotation With Clover

Every farmer should work out his own rotation, including sweet clover or other legume.

He should plant his Marquis first, at the earliest possible date, even if he plants some other variety as well, because it is our highest object to maintain the quality of our best hard wheat every year, for we know that in any year should we be reasonably free from rust, the quality of Marquis will vindicate itself. The danger of planting other varieties is that the two wheats will become so badly mixed that it will ruin the quality of both.

The very best seed available should be sown on the higher soil, avoiding low, wet land.

In addition to manuring and sowing sweet clover, acid phosphates and other artificial fertilizers should be used with intelligence, and every farm bureau ought to conduct practical operations along this line. We cannot rob our soil forever.

Don't Take Chances Neglecting Seed

It will pay to germinate your seed wheat in wet blotting papers, because much of it is badly shrivelled and full of diseased kernels.

Add to your insurance by treating your seed wheat with formaldehyde, not only because it destroys smut, but because it adds to the yield. Fan out all light, chaffy kernels, weed seeds and trash, and select only dark, hard, vitreous kernels for seed.
